

Akademia Supraska (Supraśl Academy) is a conference and training center created by the Orthodox Diocese of Białystok and Gdańsk at the premises of the Monastery of the Annunciation of the Mother of God in Supraśl. It is run by the OIKONOMOS Foundation.

The main purpose of the Academy is to promote and disseminate knowledge about the richness of the Orthodox faith, its spirituality, traditions and culture. It also aims at responding to current issues, to the changes which are taking place in an increasingly secularized society and to the needs of living as Christians in the contemporary world. Accordingly, the program of the Academy includes issues related to the development of science, social tensions, national minorities, the role of women in church and in society, a dialogue of religions and cultures, addictions, prevention of violence in the family and society, environmental protection, literature, sacral art and many others.

The academy wants to affect adults as well as youth, through various types of educational and training operations. To achieve these goals, we prepare and organise both local and international events, courses, workshops, lectures, exhibitions, concerts, film displays, symposia, conferences, and other. Among all of the events organised by Academy, a particular attention is given to two annual conferences, one of which is dedicated to the history of the Orthodox Church, while the second one is of a theological character and focuses on the role of architecture, icons and singing in the Orthodox liturgy.

We also have an accommodation base. The Pilgrim's House of Supraśl Academy is located in the center of Supraśl town, in historical buildings of the Orthodox male monastery, situated near the Supraśl river. It is a place with a spirit and soul, where the history intersects with modernity. Located in the town which is a health resort ensures a peaceful atmosphere and a unique microclimate. Guest rooms include from single up to five-person rooms, with private or shared bathrooms.

In addition to the accommodation base, we also offer meeting and training rooms, fully equipped. It is possible to organise meetings, seminars, conferences and trainings here.
